

that the rate on women's and children's gloves be raised.

When the Speaker concluded his visit to the chamber, a waiting correspondent asked if the conferees had finished.

"I am not a member of the Conference Committee; how do I know?" responded the Speaker. He wore the unmistakable air, however, of a man who had capitulated before a superior force.

There was no opportunity to compromise on gloves. The President said the rates must not be advanced beyond the figures named by the Senate bill, which are the same as the existing duties except for the fact that Schmaechen gloves were reduced by the Senate from $1.75 a dozen to $1.25. These rates were adopted.

New Rates on Lumber.
On lumber some concessions were made, in spite of the fact that the President's instructions were complied with to the letter. Rough lumber was made dutiable at $1.25 per 1,000 feet; finished on one side, $1.75; finished on two sides, or one side planed, and tongued and grooved, $2.15; finished on three sides, $2.52 1/2; and finished on four sides, $2.90.

To conciliate Senators Piles and Jones, the conferees adopted the Senate rate of 50 cents a thousand on shingles, instead of the House rate of 20 cents. In order to obtain the support of Senator Heyburn, the industries of whose State had been assailed through the abolition of the duty on hides, the reduction in the duty on lumber and the reduction in the differential on pig lead in bars, the latter schedule was reconsidered. A rate of 21-8 cents a pound on pig lead in bars was fixed.

A concession was made to the cattle industry to-day by taking tallow off the free list.

The rates on hosiery were increased about 20 per cent on grades valued at from $1 to $2 a dozen pair. This is an increase over existing rates. On all other values of hosiery the Dingley rates were retained.

Experts at Work.
When the minority members adjourned to-night it was announced that the tariff experts they had called in had proceeded to an intensive study that the new bill will be an increase of from 1 to 3 per cent over the ad valorem of the Dingley law. It is understood that in reaching this calculation the experts did not take into consideration transfers of articles from the dutiable to the free list, which the Republican conferees say would reduce the average ad valorem considerably below those of the existing law.

ALL OPPOSED TO IT

Virginia Delegation Objects to Cession of Alexandria to District of Columbia.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 29.—The Virginia delegation to a man is opposed to the cession of a section of Virginia to the District of Columbia. Representative Carlin, of Alexandria, said this morning that he was not ready to give up an inch of territory, but that he had the support of every other member of the State delegation. Representative Hay declared that it was an absurd proposition. The State Congressmen from Virginia are exercised about the right now being made by some of the Washington papers. In the course of a few days Mr. Carlin will give out a statement for the press.

Representative Green, of Massachusetts, introduced in the House to-day a resolution directing the Attorney-General to institute suit against the State of Virginia in behalf of the United States to determine if the cession of part of the District of Columbia to the State of Virginia in 1845 was lawful and constitutional, and if the cession shall be found to be unconstitutional and void, to cause the State of Virginia to be restored to the jurisdiction of the United States, the Attorney-General is requested to report what, in his judgment would be a fair and just amount to be paid by the United States to the State of Virginia in lieu of the revenues that the State receives from the city and county.

CHICAGO HAS "HOLD-UP" GIRL

Robbed Man of Scarfpin at Point of Concealed Revolver.

CHICAGO, July 29.—A hysterical young woman in white, who holds up and robs pedestrians at the point of a revolver, is being sought by detectives of the Hudson Avenue Station. The activity of the "hold-up woman" was first reported to the police by Edward Kitchin, an insurance salesman. He described the robber as being nineteen years old, pretty, and wearing a white duck shirt and white silk jacket.

Klobber told the police that he was walking in North Park Avenue, near Pell Court, yesterday afternoon, when the woman asked him where he was going. He replied that it was none of her business, whereupon she said she placed a revolver, wrapped in a handkerchief, against his breast and told him to hand over the diamond pin in his tie. Klobber complied, and the woman walked away. He started to follow, but was told that unless he took an opposite direction he would be killed.

HOLLINGSWORTH AGAIN

Congressman Unable to Get Over Presentation of Silver Service.

WASHINGTON, July 29.—Through the introduction in the House to-day of a resolution, Representative Hollingsworth requesting further information from the Secretary of the Navy regarding the matter of the silver service, the name again comes into the limelight in connection with the silver service. Presented to the battleship Mississippi.

After repeating the introduction of his former resolution, Mr. Hollingsworth adds another paragraph in which he says that, whereas "it has been reported in the public press that a subaltern officer of the Navy, on shore duty June 1, 1909, assumed to accept such gift from some of Mr. Davies' friends on behalf of the Department of the United States Government," the Secretary of the Navy is requested to inform Congress whether such gift was accepted by any one, and if so, how, by whom, and on what authority.

PULLIAM DEAD, HEYDORF TO BE NEW PRESIDENT

National League Leader Succumbs to Wounds Inflicted by His Own Hand.

NEW YORK, July 29.—John A. Heydler, secretary and treasurer of the National League of Professional Baseball Clubs, will arrive in New York and assume charge of the business affairs of the league to-morrow. He was notified to-day of the tragic death of President Harry Clay Pulliam, who died this morning after shooting himself through the head while in his room at the New York Athletic Club. Mr. Heydler's first act after reaching Montreal, whither he was bound, was to direct a telegram to New York friends saying he would start for the metropolis immediately. With H. W. Calkins of Nashville, Tenn., a brother-in-law of Mr. Pulliam, also expected here to-morrow, Mr. Heydler will complete the funeral arrangements. In this telegram he said that in his opinion interment should be made in Louisville, Mr. Pulliam's former home.

Mr. Heydler will also make arrangements for the election of a successor to President Pulliam. The belief seems to be general that Heydler will be chosen for the position practically without opposition.

Mr. Pulliam died shortly before 3 o'clock this morning from the wound from a bullet which he fired through his head with suicidal intent last night. Broken in health from overwork in his long fight to maintain a high standard of baseball, Pulliam, in a moment of mental aberration, his friends say, shot himself.

Pulliam went to his room early last night and, lying on a sofa, fired a bullet into his head. The ball entered the right temple, fracturing the frontal bone, tore out the right eye, and passed out at the left temple. He was found lying near the telephone by a club servant, who was sent to find out who was trying to get a telephone connection.

Opposed by League Leaders.
Pulliam's death marks the passing of one of the most interesting figures of baseball. Imbued with the idea that the complete success of the game rested on honesty, he often found himself opposed by some of his associates. Worry over his troubles with the league leaders brought on a nervous breakdown last winter and forced his temporary retirement. He resumed his active labor about a month ago.

As chief executive of the leading baseball organization of the country, Mr. Pulliam's course sometimes brought him into sharp conflict with the club proprietors. Some of these latter parties ticularly opposed as excessively arbitrary the president's instructions to umpires immediately after he assumed office to deal severely with cases of so-called "rowdy baseball." A succession of controversies bore hard upon the president's nervous temperament, and at last he broke down.

Jumped on Officials.
During a banquet in Chicago in February Pulliam suddenly rose and began a bitter tirade against the league officials. He was quieted for the time, and his friends obtained for him an indefinite leave of absence. Pulliam left Chicago without hat or coat, and next appeared in St. Louis, where he announced his engagement to a young woman of that city. Garry Herrmann followed him to St. Louis and took him South. When Pulliam resumed his active duties as head of the National League about a month ago he showed no signs of his long illness and friends congratulated him upon the recovery of his health.

CAN'T GET STINSON.

Manager Lipe yesterday gave positive denial to a rumor current that George Stinson, now of the San Antonio Club, in the Texas League, and who played at center field for the Richmond last year, will be brought back here this season. "We would like to have Stinson," says Lipe, "but we couldn't get him now." Stinson played in the first of the season with Memphis, Minn., in the American League. He is batting remarkably well with San Antonio, and recently secured a three-base hit, two doubles and a single in one game.

GIRLS WIN

Outplay Men in Vigorous Game of Baseball.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
WELDON, N. C., July 29.—At a picnic given to-day in honor of young women from Greenville, the fair visitors challenged the young men to a game of ball, and won by a score of 3 to 1. Of course, the umpire was accused of rank decisions in favor of the young women. It did appear to the spectators that the umpire called everything that was thrown across the plate a ball when the women were at bat, while for the men everything was called a strike if it was anywhere in sight when it passed over the batter's head.

The features of the game were the splendid base running of Mrs. Barr, chapter; the batting of Misses Green and Spears; and the beautiful work of Miss Joyner at third, Miss Warren at shortstop and Miss Critcher at second. Misses Evans and Forbes scored the game, and no record was made of errors.

FIGHT IMPROBABLE.

Big Smoke Thinks Jeff's Conditions Will Be Too Exacting.

DETROIT, Mich., July 29.—In an interview here to-night Jack Johnson, the colored heavyweight pugilist, said that he considered a fight with Jeffries an improbability, as he anticipated that Jeffries would exact conditions which he would find it impossible to accept. He stated that he would not stand for any guaranty, but would demand a winner and loser division of the money.

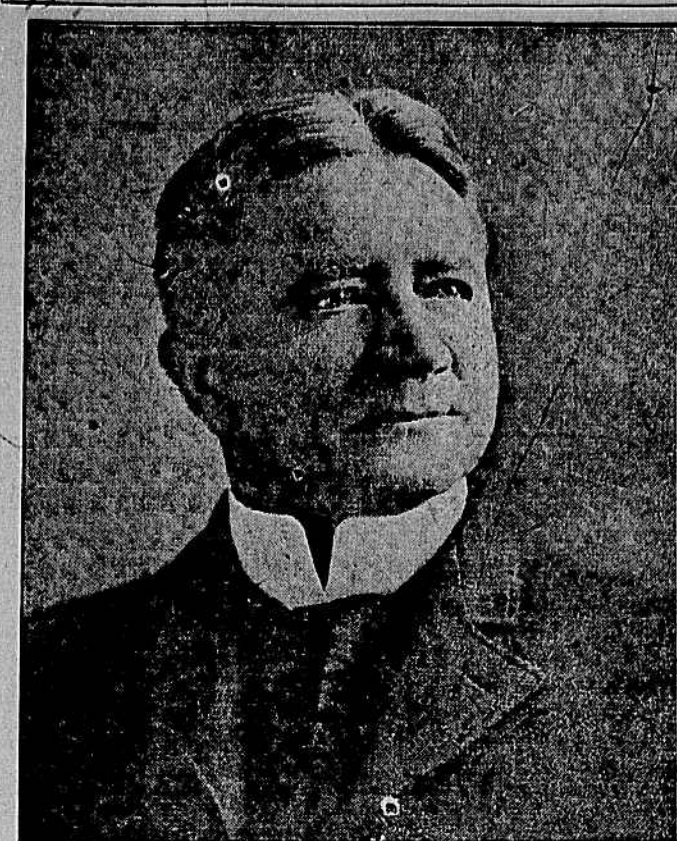

The big fighter said that the coming fight with Ketchel did not worry him any, as he felt confident that he would have no trouble in defeating the middleweight fighter.

Johnson was arrested here to-day by a motor-cycle policeman on a charge of exceeding the speed limit with his automobile.

Declared Not Guilty.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., July 29.—The jury, after being tied up all night and morning, this afternoon returned a verdict of not guilty against Joel A. Hays, a young farmer, charged with riding over and killing Mrs. Fannie Ketter, while the latter was returning from church, on the night of September 15, 1908. Plea of defense was that the horse ran away, and that its owner lost control of the animal.

CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR

W. F. KENT, OF WYTHEVILLE.

Mr. Kent, choice of the Republicans of Virginia, as their standard-bearer in the coming gubernatorial campaign, comes from a family long prominent in the public life of Virginia. He is about fifty years of age, and at present is United States consul to Guantamoa city, one of the leading cities of the republic of Guatemala, Central America. He has held that position about three years, and previous to his appointment practiced law in Virginia, his home being in Wytheville.

During the last campaign, when Judge L. L. Lewis was the Republican candidate for Governor of Virginia, Mr. Kent was his running mate for the lieutenant-governorship. He is a native of Wythe county, and gets the military title of captain from having served as an officer in the Spanish-American War. He is a son of a gallant ex-Confederate and widely-known Democrat, the late Robert G. Kent, who is well remembered as a legislator and as lieutenant-governor of this State. The son is said to resemble his father in appearance and to have many of his mannerisms.

Lieutenant Governor Kent was a man of the highest culture and the most courteous manners. He was a consistent and loyal Democrat, who stood high in party councils. As a legislator he was best known through his patronage of the Kent railroad bill.

But Three Contests.
When the convention met at 11 o'clock the report of the committee on credentials was read. There were but three contests. The regulars won out in Petersburg, but in Henry and Shenandoah the committee recommended that both the regular and contesting delegates be seated, with a half of a vote each. The report was adopted, but not unanimously, several delegates in the latter counties hall registering an emphatic "no."

The report of the committee on resolutions selecting D. Lawrence Groner, the temporary chairman, for permanent chairman, and V. M. Sowder, of Floyd, for secretary, was adopted.

The Platform.
The report of the platform committee was read by W. C. Pendleton, of Tazewell, and was read at length. It is in brief as follows:

In its introduction the platform charges the Democratic party with failing to keep its promises and with not having given the people of the State any platform for several years. It states that the Republican party has formulated and has carried out great beneficial reforms for the benefit of the country.

The party principles as announced in the national platform are indorsed, as well as the tariff bill of the Republican Congress.

The policy of the national administration in various matters is approved. The charge is made that the Democratic party by mismanagement has unduly increased the expenses of the State Government.

The following things are favored: Equal taxation for every section and for every man; the election of members of the State Corporation Commission and all other State, county and district officers, including commissioners of revenue and all school officers, by the people; the abolition of the fee system and a strict enforcement of the law.

To Eliminate Politics.
The elimination of politics from the managements of public school, increase of pay and efficiency of teachers, careful supervision of school books and the lengthening of school terms in rural districts favored.

Alleged unfair methods of Democratic party in elections are condemned. Fair, nonpartisan election laws are favored.

Improvement of public highways and employment of convict labor on roads, adequate system of bank examination, proper care of the Confederate veterans, the correction of the so-called insurance evil, whereby exorbitant rates are charged.

So-called gerrymandering tactics of the Democrats in taking Floyd county from the voters' vote is condemned.

Employment of convict labor in competition with honest free labor is opposed.

The maintenance of the Baylor oyster survey intact and the enforcement of law against illegal encroachment on public beds, and the enactment of any necessary pure food laws are indorsed.

State Chairman Slemp, National Committee Martin and National Committee Hinchcock are indorsed; and the appointment of Roy E. Cabell, of Richmond, as commissioner of internal revenue by Taft, is approved.

BODY FOUND IN RIVER

Eighteen-Year-Old Girl Believed to Be Victim of Murder.

MAON, Ga., July 29.—That Lottie Faircloth, the eighteen-year-old young woman whose body was found in the Cumbeige River yesterday, was the victim of murder, is now the opinion of Chief of Police Westcott, who to-day began a searching investigation.

It was pointed out by the chief of police that the young woman committed suicide was based almost solely on the identification of a note to a young man named Len Levar. The officers understand that Miss Levar and Faircloth quarreled on Friday night.

Negro Charged With Murder.
AIKEN, S. C., July 29.—Levi Chavous, a negro, was placed in jail to-day charged with the murder of C. S. Pringles, a white man, at Kathwood, twenty miles from here. Pringles has been shot and killed. It is supposed he was found in the Savannah River Swamp yesterday. Pringles disappeared from his home on July 3. Chavous is said to have made threats against Pringles.

ing to find out where sin came from and more time in trying to get rid of it, the difference in their lives would make up for the disappointment in the lack of knowledge. Environment is getting to be the twentieth century apology for devilry.

"People talk about ethical culture and sewer gas and ventilation as if all the races lived on the Bowery and all the ethical models lived on Fifth Avenue. No one denies that there is some good in all these things, but not as a substitute for God's plan of getting rid of sin."

WOMAN IN CHARGE

Chicago's Great School System Is Put in Her Hands.

CHICAGO, July 29.—The superintendent of Chicago's great school system has been given into the hands of a woman for the first time in its history. Mrs. Ella Flagg Young, principal of the Chicago Normal School since 1905, and an educator of national reputation, was chosen to-night by the newly organized Board of Education, as head of the public schools.

Mrs. Young's selection followed a struggle for the office which has been going on since the death of Edwin G. Cooley, several months ago.

CLAIRVOYANT'S MURDER CLUE.

Detectives and Diver to Seek Young Man's Body in Canadian Lake.

MONTREAL, July 29.—Because a clairvoyant told Mme. Fournier that her son, who has been missing since last November, had been murdered and his body thrown into Montfort Lake, in the Laurentian Mountains, Detectives Lapointe and Samson, of the Provincial police, and Dan MacKay, a professional diver, are leaving for the North, equipped with camping outfit for several days and complete gear for diving and grappling.

Mme. Fournier is so impressed with the story of the clairvoyant that she is convinced that her son's body will be found with a shotgun wound in his back. MacKay, the diver, has also been told by the wizard, and he is equally convinced.

Search for young Fournier was given up last winter, but the statement of the clairvoyant has stirred the Attorney-General's department to renewed efforts.
